

MOTOR CAR CHASE LANDS TWO IN JAIL

A thrilling motor car chase through the streets of Georgetown early today ended in the capturing of a stolen taxicab and the capture of two alleged automobile thieves.

The men are held in the Eighth precinct police station on charge of stealing the taxicab and joyriding. They identified themselves as Raymond F. Doyle, 1342 Four-and-a-half-street southwest, and Harry A. Sellers, 710 Alabama avenue southeast. They were bruised when the taxicab overturned, but were not seriously hurt.

Engaging the taxicab in front of a Chinese restaurant, the men directed John Smith, chauffeur for the New Taxi Company, to drive them to the home of two women who lived there, said on the Canal road near Chain Bridge. When the machine reached the house, Smith was requested to call for the girls. When he left the taxi, one of the men took the wheel and started the car toward Washington.

They met an automobile operated by Samuel Herscov, a hacker, who had a passenger. They blocked the road and the passenger, frightened, ran down the road. Smith ran up to Herscov and told him the men had stolen his taxicab. The chase then began.

At Thirty-fourth and M streets Smith called Bicycle Policeman C. H. Trammell, who discarded his bicycle and got in the machine with Smith and Herscov. They chased the taxi at high speed, zig-zagging through the streets.

At Sixteenth street and Massachusetts avenue Herscov drove his machine in front of the taxicab, causing the two men to lose control of the steering gear. The car ran into the curb and striking a street car, the men were then pulled from under the wrecked car and arrested. They will be arraigned in Police Court tomorrow.

GIRL THROWN FROM MOTORCYCLE SEAT

Thrown from the rear seat of a motorcycle on which she was riding with J. W. Call, 1535 E street southeast, Miss Irma Keller, twenty-two years old, 421 Ninth street northeast, was badly bruised and cut on the body and legs and today is at her home under care of a physician. The accident occurred when Call, in trying to avoid striking a street car at Ninth and H streets northeast, lost control of the motorcycle, causing it to skid against the curb. Miss Keller had her injuries dressed at the Casualty Hospital and later was taken to her home.

James E. Walter, Jr., forty years old, of Falls Church, Va., was slightly hurt last night when an auto truck he was operating was struck by a car of the Washington Railway and Electric Company at Sixth and D streets northeast. Eugene Brown, 421 Ridge street, who also was riding on the truck, was not injured. Walter was treated at the Casualty Hospital. Lieut. Colvin C. McKay, forty years old, of No. 1 1/2 street northwest, was injured on the right leg when a motorcycle he was riding collided with an auto truck of Dulin & Martin Company, operated by Cornelius Smallwood, 2615 Fifteenth street northwest, at Sherman avenue and Barry place northwest yesterday afternoon. He was taken to his home, 702 Morton street northwest, where he was treated by Dr. Wilbur Brandenburg, police and fire department surgeon.

The automobile of H. C. Ragsdale, 515 Lamont street northwest, was damaged when it was struck by an auto truck owned by G. H. Shaw, 1435 C street northeast, at First and Second streets northeast last night. Mr. Ragsdale was shaken up, but escaped injury.

LEMON JUICE TAKES OFF TAN

Girls! Make bleaching lotion if skin is sunburned, tanned or freckled

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle, sunburn, and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons, and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage the sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, and hands each day and see how freckles, sunburn, windburn, and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.

WALK ERECT AT EIGHTY

Because a man or woman is old does not mean that they must walk along bent over and supported with a cane. A man can be vigorous and healthy at eighty as at twenty if he aids the organs of the body in performing their functions.

All diseases whether of a malignant or weak character tend to leave away our vitality. You must counteract disease in its incipient stage if you would live a happy and useful long life.

Indian Lists Graft In Township Books As a Public Asset

Vice President Marshall today claimed for Indiana the "honestest" man.

"This man," said Marshall, "is a township commissioner. When his books were audited recently, it was found he had entered as an asset, 'Graft, $30.'"

"The State accountant asked him to explain. The commissioner said that needing a road scraper, he had given the order to a young man he liked, who, on leaving town with the order, had shaken hands heartily with the commissioner. Incidentally he left $30 in the commissioner's palm."

"Hold on!" cried the commissioner, "you've made a mistake. You gave me some money."

"Why, you boob, that's graft," replied the salesman, swinging aboard his train.

"What is this graft stuff?" the commissioner asked himself, and, being unable to say, he deposited the money in the bank and entered it on his books as above stated."

TELLS OF FLYING OVER WAR FRONT

Flying all day at a height of three miles above the German lines, and following the scout leader in sports of observation pursuits until "the bed was rolling a bit" when he retired late at night, is "nothing of interest" in the life of Lieut. C. A. Snow, Jr., member of the Ninety-fourth Air Squadron, first pursuit group, zone of advance.

In a recent letter to his father C. A. Snow, of Fenwick, Md., the young lieutenant gives a detailed account of his experiences during one day's flying at the front. The letter is as follows:

A Full Day's Work.

"Yesterday I did a full day's work. Two high patrols and one protection which turned out a failure as the observation machine which we were to escort had motor trouble and turned back before we even reached the lines. Most of the bunch returned immediately, but I went out toward the lines and tried out both my guns. They worked like clock-work and I could see my tracers converging accurately ahead. We finished the day with a patrol after supper, flying for a long while over a great cloud bank shining gold and silver in the setting sun, with only occasional glimpses of the world beneath."

"Then followed the return into our own safe land and a long straight flight in toward home with motor throttled and nose slightly down. This is the nicest part of the day. One changes hands on the stick, sits comfortably in the seat, rests a tired neck and flies just as straight as a string can be. It is the realization of work done and a relaxation. I kept trying to think with indifferent success of the first lines of Grey's Elegy all the way in last night."

How Evening Is Spent.

"Then comes a landing, a taxi into the hangar. The orderly comes around for a report. 'No, nothing of interest seen this evening, altitude 4,800.' Then one climbs out, stretches, yawns, and jumps the auto back to the village where we are billeted."

"Usually there is a rehearsal of the night—'Did you see any boches?' 'Did everyone get back?' 'Say, I wish you wouldn't fly so close to me; you cramp my style.' 'Did you see me wave my wings and dive on those three machines?' 'No. Did you?' 'No; but did you see me?' etc."

"What time are we on tomorrow?" "Four-thirty high patrol." "Why in do WE always get that; won't they ever let us sleep?" "Well, good night. And so it goes. Last night the bed was rolling a bit, something like the first day on land after a voyage at sea, but this didn't bother me."

STAR COMEDIAN WANTS TO FLY

When the army authorities turned down the request of Lew Hilton, star comedian at the Gayety Theater this week with the "Girls of the U. S. A." company, to be a flyer, they put the quistus on the hopes of one of the most enthusiastic would-be aviators in the length and breadth of the land.

There was nothing really wrong with the Gayety star, the army doctors told him, according to his story today, but he was generally unfitted for aviation, and on that subject Hilton has pondered and studied for these many years. Even now the versatile Hebrew laugh-maker is hoping there was a mistake in the records somewhere and he will wake up some fine morning to find by his bedside an official envelope from the War Department, calling him to duty.

I've accepted the den of a circus balloon performer at a country fair in his home in California to take a flight, made a trip up and landed in the top of a tree, he has been dead set on becoming the world's star flyer. When the war came Hilton beamed with joy, for here he thought would come the chance for him to make his contemporaries in the show world gaze with envy and awe.

DETERMINE SHIP COSTS.

The exact cost of each ship built under war-time necessity is to be determined by the shipping board and the nation informed of the price paid for all steel, composite or wooden ships delivered. Chairman Hurley of the Shipping Board, will confer next week with Director General Schwab and Vice President Pize, of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, to consider a preliminary survey made during the past two months by accountants.

A Special Collection of Charming New Fall Suits at $16.85 and $24.75

In Which the Values Offered Are Most Unusual and the Styles the Very Newest and Exceptionally Distinctive and Not Usually to Be Had at These Low Prices

WE acquired these suits advantageously from one of the leading makers. It was this way: We gave him the order for the lot and told him to go ahead and make them up during his slack period—thus enabling him to keep his organization together through what would ordinarily have been a dull season—in consideration of this we received a generous price concession which saving we now pass on to purchasers in this special offering.

Here Are a Few Details Concerning the Two Assortments:

At $16.85—All Wool Cheviot Suits in pinstriped back, and full belted style. Inlaid collar of velvet, two rows of buttons down back and front; full lined with plain or fancy linings, skirts are plain tailored, gathered back, with medium width belts. Black and navy only. Special at $16.85.

At $24.75—225 Suits to choose from too numerous to describe—many are samples and only one of a kind, fine all wool serges, gabardines, and poplins, braid and button trimmed or perfectly plain tailored; all the new autumn shades; suits that would be good values at $29.50. Special at $24.75.

A Splendid Lot of the Much Wanted Wool Jersey Dresses—Special $24.75

The popularity of Wool Jersey has not diminished one iota! Hundreds of women are seeking these pretty frocks—and finding them hard to obtain at any price within reason—simply because of the scarcity of the raw materials (the Government having taken supervision over all raw wool supplies).

But Here Is a Very Fine Assortment and Decidedly Moderate in Price, Too, and Values Far Exceed the Price Asked.

One pretty style of excellent quality wool jersey, with fancy roll collar, wide tucked girdle, tunic skirt. Waist and skirt and cuff on sleeve embroidered with silk soutache braid to match. Colors are plum, taupe and tan. Other pretty styles in plain tailored styles.
